

Researching International Human Rights Law

Current Challenges and Opportunities

Lisa Reinsberg
International Justice
Resource Center

Gaye Sowe
Institute for Human Rights and Development in Africa

Tarisayi Radu
Initiative for Strategic
Litigation in Africa

Brittany West
International Justice
Resource Center

Monday, 30 October 2017, 9:00 - 10:30

Room 1, Kairaba Hotel

All human rights advocates use online databases to research law and jurisprudence. But, are you using the most relevant and up-to-date databases? Are you getting the most useful search results? Join us for a training on using the internet to find the national, regional, and universal case law and standards relevant to your litigation and advocacy. The agenda includes a detailed review of online legal research tools and a live demonstration of research techniques.

1

NEW TOOLS

Learn about new online databases for legal research.

2

PRACTICAL TIPS

Increase your efficiency and effectiveness in human rights research.

3

RESEARCH AIDS

Participants will receive a flash drive with useful materials.